All Eyes Toward God: The Sistine Chapel - It was the year 1508 and Pope Julius II was in need of an artist to transform the Sistine Chapel ceiling; Don Koonen will talk about Michelangelo, and give a detailed step-by-step review of the ceiling in all its artistic magnificence.

Mushroom Mashup: Culinary and Medicinal, with Mycologist Dr. Tina Ellor, Technical Director at Phillip's Mushroom Farms, Kennett Square - Learn about the history of mushrooms, health benefits of eating mushrooms, as well as mushroom varieties and cultivation. Learn more about the fungus among us!

What Climate Change Teaches Us About the Indispensable Need for Nations to Cooperate to Solve Emerging Global Threats - Donald Brown, Scholar-in-Residence at Widener University Commonwealth Law School, recently became the first American to be awarded the prestigious Avicenna Prize for excellence in climate change ethics by the United Nations Education, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). For four decades, he has worked to enhance public understanding of the ethical obligations of governments, organizations and individuals to respond to climate change.

ModBetty: Retro Roadmap - Come along on a digital tour of authentic vintage places and hidden gems in Central PA and the Philadelphia Region. A walk down memory lane for some, glimpse into the past for others and entertaining and informative for all. Beth Lennon is the creator of RetroRoadmap.com that highlights cool vintage places, good eats and retro fun. Combining her degree in Art History and passions for photography and roadtripping, Beth has documented the disappearing roadside for decades. Get there so it won't be gone!
